Redevelopment of St. Anthony's Hospital at Sloan's Lake

The former St. Anthony's Hospital, a 19 acre site undergoing demolition by EFG Partners in preparation for sale to vertical developers, will become a mixed-use, heavily residential community. A parking garage, former nurses' residence, and a historic chapel will be preserved and repurposed. In August, Council approved the creation of Metropolitan Districts to help fund necessary infrastructure for the site including reintroduction of the street grid and utilities as well as enhanced and environmentally sustainable green spaces, streetscapes, and plazas. Council also created an Urban Renewal Area that could be used to collect TIF funds for redevelopment of retail and commercial services along Colfax.

Active Discussions:

1. A General Development Plan outlining some basic forms and infrastructure for the site is under development and must be approved by Community Planning and Development.
2. Plans for the former St. Anthony's site and the general West Colfax neighborhood acknowledge the need for more residential homes in the area to spur and support neighborhood-serving retail and services along the West Colfax corridor. As part of the planning for the site, EFG is researching and exploring how best to meet the critical mass of housing required to support these amenities, and has committed to gradual transitions from existing nearby homes to help integrate the new community with the existing one.
3. While an Urban Renewal Area was created, no specific project was given approval for use of TIF, so Council approval would be required before any TIF investments could be made. At the time the Urban Renewal Area was created, Council comments and public testimony provided a strong emphasis on the importance of ensuring mixed-income housing was built in the redevelopment area in keeping with adopted plans, both to maintain the diversity so cherished in the area as prices rise following redevelopment, and to provide new more attractive housing as existing affordable housing in the area ages and becomes less sustainable. Affordable housing is also mentioned in the principles adopted for the site by the developer and described during the public hearing as a goal they are working toward.
4. Before the hospital left the site, residents expressed a strong desire to maintain primary health care services in the neighborhood, health was incorporated into the adopted plans as a major focus, and St. Anthony's hospital made public comments expressing a strong desire to help meet those desires in some undefined way. Although no specific plans have been released, discussions continue on how to incorporate health care services in the redevelopment area.

"Puffing" is Illegal

It is that time of year again when the leaves start changing and the overnight temperatures can be chilly. When you get up in the morning and are tempted to leave your car running to allow the windows to defrost and warm the seats.

As a friendly reminder from The Denver Police Department, please don't leave your vehicles running and unattended also known as a "puffer" or "puffing." The term is used in describing exhaust vapors that come out of a tailpipe when a vehicle is running in cold weather, which can alert thieves that your car is running with the keys in the ignition. These cars are also known to thieves as opportunities. These stolen vehicles are often used in the commission of other crimes.

"Puffers" contribute to a large number of automobile thefts in the Denver Metro-area. This crime is 100% avoidable. Puffing is illegal and if a vehicle is cited can lead to a monetary penalty. More importantly puffing gives criminals an easy opportunity to steal your car which will cost you even more money, time and create a major inconvenience. It is still considered a violation if your vehicle doors are locked while the car is running.

Jefferson Park Pet of the Month

Abby

This month's pet of the month is MISSING!

Abby slipped out of her home near 25th and Eliot. Abby moved to Jefferson Park in March and loves her new home. She loves to go for car rides and is extremely friendly, loves kids and is fairly well known around the neighborhood. Abby was last seen wearing her Broncos scarf as pictured. She is dearly missed by her family and their home is not the same without her. Please be on the lookout for Abby and if you have any information about her please contact Monica at 303.585.0776.

Would you like to see your pet featured?

Please send a photo and a few tidbits about your favorite pet to Tom at blythspirit@q.com or Kym at kymandpat@comcast.net.

JEFFERSON PARK UNITED NEIGHBORS

From the JPUN President

Hello Jefferson Park Friends,

As you will see from the articles in the newsletter this month, the pace of development in the area continues to pick up. You probably have new development happening very near to you. Much of this will bring new opportunities to Jefferson Park, but also new problems. One issue we are very concerned with is the continued availability of affordable housing - people living in the neighborhood enjoy the diversity it brings even as it raises issues. On November 14 at 6:30 pm at the Zocalo offices at 22nd and Decatur, JPUN's Land Use Committee will be joined by Doug Smith, Denver's Director of Sustainable Housing and Communities, who will talk to us about how we can maximize affordable housing options in Jefferson Park through this period of redevelopment. We hope you will be able to join us for this discussion.

Some new restaurant and dining options are scheduled to open in the next several months as well. Most people know about Sartos opening shortly after the first of the year at 25th and Eliot, but right next door on Eliot will be the Jefferson Park Pub, an Irish themed bar and restaurant. We just heard that across from Sartos, on the southeast corner of 25th and Eliot will be another Sexy Pizza location, offering many gourmet pizzas including vegetarian and vegan options. And Chili Verde, on the west side of Federal just north of 23rd, is now open offering a number of Mexican dishes including some southern Mexican specialties. These new eateries join the many great places to eat already here and serving the people of Jefferson Park within easy walking distance. No need to leave Jefferson Park for great dining options.

JPUN would like to establish Good Neighbor Agreements with the new restaurants opening in this busy residential area, but these take quite a bit of effort to get in place. The neighborhood is changing, we are trying to stay on top of what is going on, and we'll continue to need your help in identifying new projects and reaching out to the developers to learn about their plans and to help them join our neighborhood and respecting the great place that is Jefferson Park. As always, we need volunteers for our various activities and committees to keep it all moving.

Enjoy your Thanksgiving Holiday!
Jeff Archambeau, JPUN President

ANIMAL CONTROL

Cats Out of Control

Did you know...

Two uncontrolled breeding cats plus all of their kittens; if none are ever spayed or neutered add up to:

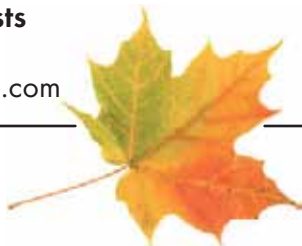

- 2 litters per year
- 2-8 surviving kittens per litter
- In 10 years multiply to 80,399,780 cats

There are a variety of options when it comes to addressing your pets' needs or issues with feral cats in the neighborhood. Listed here is a sampling of organizations that provide low cost spay and neutering services, including the T/N/R Program (trap/neuter/release).

Please contact any of the following organizations for more information.

FREE YOUTH BIKE

Groundwork Denver Free Bikes Get Kids Moving

Those of you who are regular readers of our newsletter will know that we have been doing monthly bike giveaways since spring of this year through our Strive to Not Drive program. By providing the youth of Northwest Denver with these two wheeled wonder machines (some four, with training wheels) we are hoping to continue building upon Denver's growing bike culture and fostering the habit of sustainable and healthy transportation in the future movers and shakers of the city.

Our most recent giveaways at Viva Streets Denver and the Sunnyside Music Festival were wildly successful in engaging people of the community in the Strive to Not Drive program. Between both giveaways OVER 50 BIKES were put in the hands of Denver youth! But we wouldn't be able to connect so many youth to bikes without the help of our awesome partner organization, Project Recycle (www.projectrecycle.org).

A huge thank you is in order to AJ Stapleton Executive Director of Project Recycle and all the hard working volunteers who work on the donated bikes that are then repurposed to youth eager to ride.

Email Dele @ dele@groundworkcolorado.org if you know a child or teenager living in 80211 or 80212 who needs a bike.

Jefferson Park Land Rush!

by Jerry Olson

Construction fever has hit Jefferson Park in a big way.

As of October 31, 2013 six commercial projects will begin construction or open in the next 5 months. At the same time 18 residential projects are slated for construction or are just coming on market. The following list was derived by input from the JPUN Land Use Committee, field surveys and direct contact with owners, developers and sale agents. Review of the following projects will surprise most readers.

New businesses and developers to Jefferson Park are encouraged to contact JPUN's Land Use Committee to cement their ties to the community. David Solomon is Chair and can be contacted at davidrsolo@yahoo.com.

For an update or corrections to this list contact jerryolson@comcast.net.

The neighborhood has already welcomed new businesses of note. Anthony and Melissa Davis were pioneers when they opened 2914 Coffee on 25th Avenue eighteen months ago. Federal Bar & Grill, Corner House and Sassafras soon followed with great food, spirits and craft beers. For a taste of the southwest and Mexico remember Jack & Grill's and Araujo's. Patronize these fine members of Jefferson Park.

NEIGHBORHOOD PERSPECTIVE

Letter to the Editor Perspective From Some Time Away

I left Jefferson Park in January, 2012 and returned in July, 2013. Some of the changes I knew about; The Spanos project (Element 47) got started and The Corner House opened, but I have been amazed at the number of new places going in weekly. A house on 23rd was gone in a day and a half and the lot is leveled and ready for something new.

There are small projects scattered around the neighborhood, lots of 3-story places and several boarded up places that look ready for demolition. It reminds me of the many changes I watched as the Cherry Creek neighborhood transformed. Most of the change here seems positive and it was inevitable based on the location of Jefferson Park. Personally, I am hoping we can save more of the older homes and be a little less Cherry Creek.

I have attended one neighborhood meeting and it is still a strong, vital voice for the neighborhood with faithful participation by several people. As usual there was the update by the police and reports about various events and the status of projects. The new format for the Newsletter is great and I look forward to seeing it every month.

I hope to get involved in some of the projects that are sure to come up in the next year and hope more people moving in will attend the neighborhood meeting(s) and also get involved. There are some wonderful people on the board and the more people involved, the better our neighborhood events will be as we continue to grow and change. One of the many reasons I like living here is the people I have met and the friendly atmosphere of the area.

The letter writer is a Peace Corp volunteer recently returned from Southeast Asia.

A Whole New Way to Ride

On Sunday, May 11, 2014, the new Union Station Transit Center will officially open in the heart of downtown Denver. This modern facility will serve as a multimodal transportation hub, offering bus, light rail, the Free MallRide, the new Free MetroRide, Amtrak, B-cycle, and future commuter rail. The Union Station Transit Center will be replacing Market Street Station, which is permanently closing and many bus routes will be changing.

Public Input Meetings

RTD has scheduled three (3) public meetings to discuss service changes proposed for Union Station. These meetings are designed to inform the public and to obtain input on the proposed changes.

- Friday, November 15, 2013 • 6:00 p.m.
