STREET SWEEPING SEASON IN FULL FORCE

Denver's Department of Transportation and Infrastructure (DOTI) is reminding residents that street sweeping season has started and is encouraging people to check the red and white signs on their block for parking restrictions and move their car on their street sweeping day to avoid a $50 citation.

Denver's annual street sweeping program removes dirt and debris off city streets, keeping it out of our air and water and making our environment cleaner and healthier. Denver asks residents to move their cars on their street sweeping day so the sweepers can reach all the way to the curb line where dirt accumulates. The removal of debris also prevents storm sewer inlets from getting clogged. DOTI also reminds people not to sweep leaves into the street.

In addition to checking for red and white posted street sweeping signs on their block, residents can look up their street sweeping schedule and sign up for email/text reminders by visiting www.denvergov.org. The posted street season runs April through November.

FEDERAL BOULEVARD PEDESTRIAN SAFETY IMPROVEMENT PROJECT W 23RD AVENUE TO W 27TH AVENUE

Sidewalk closures on W 25th Ave East of Federal Boulevard

Reconstruction of W. 25th Avenue east of Federal Boulevard progresses as crews work to safely remove and construct a more pedestrian-friendly street. A full closure and parking restrictions remains in place on W. 25th Avenue from Federal Boulevard east, halfway to Eliot Street, through the spring. Vehicle and pedestrian traffic are advised to detour east via 24th or 26th Avenues to Eliot Street to access 25th Avenue.

To implement pedestrian improvements on W. 25th Avenue, crews will remove portions of the existing sidewalks, while maintaining business access, and install new, improved sidewalks east of Federal Boulevard to Eliot Street. This work will require various sidewalk closures for approximately 2 months that began Monday, April 1.

Pedestrian access to businesses on W. 25th Avenue will be maintained.

See map, below, for closure limits, detour routes and parking restrictions.

Underground work on Federal Boulevard requires daily intermittent lane closure, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

DOTI encourages travelers to choose alternate routes to avoid these temporary lane closures and travel impacts.

Denver’s Department of Transportation and Infrastructure (DOTI), in partnership with its contractor, Concrete Express, continue to provide safety improvements for Federal Boulevard between West 23rd and West 27th Avenues and create a safer environment for pedestrians crossing the stretch and accessing local business destinations.

Project improvements include:

- Upgrading pedestrian ramps on Federal Blvd at West 25th and West 26th Avenues.
- Adding concrete bulb-outs at several corners to shorten pedestrian crossing distances and slow vehicle turns.
- Installing a HAWK signal on Federal Blvd. at West 25th Avenue. People on foot and on bikes can activate the HAWK signal to stop vehicles traveling on Federal to cross the street more safely.
- Transform West 25th Avenue from Federal Blvd to Eliot Street into a more pedestrian friendly street with a narrowed and curved design to slow vehicle speeds (known as a chicane) and install green infrastructure on this block to provide water quality and natural plantings to beautify and cool the environment.
- Upgrade the stormwater infrastructure at W. 25th and W. 26th Avenues and on Eliot Street to improve drainage and reduce flood risks.

OPEN PROJECT MAP

Throughout the work, operations will require travel impacts along this stretch of Federal Boulevard. Crews will utilize intermittent lane closures and shift the path of vehicle travel to support the safety of the workers. Crews will also require temporary sidewalk closures. Alternate access/routes will be provided. Residents can stay informed by visiting this webpage. The project is anticipated to wrap up by fall 2024.

All work is weather dependent and will be rescheduled if conditions do not permit crews to safely complete planned operations.

BUS RAPID TRANSIT ON FEDERAL BLVD MOVES FORWARD

RTD is announcing the next step in the Federal Boulevard Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) project.

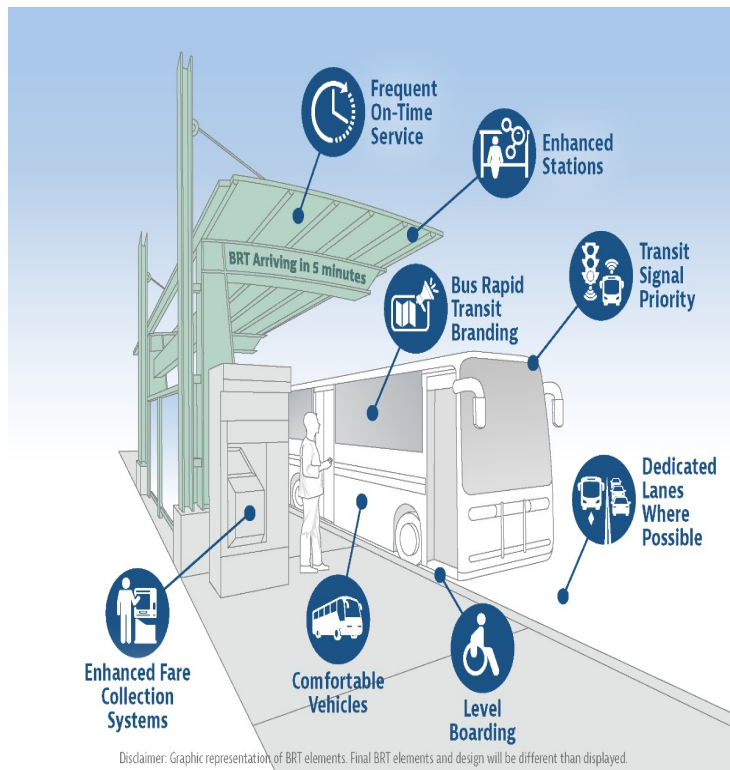

BRT is a high-capacity, efficient bus service that incorporates elements of light rail, such as enhanced stations, all-door boarding, purchasing tickets before riding, and in some locations, dedicated bus lanes. Bringing BRT to one of Denver’s busiest transit corridors (Federal Boulevard from Dartmouth Avenue in the south to 120th Avenue in the north) will improve travel by transit on the corridor with attractive, enhanced bus stations and fast reliable service. The project is currently in the design phase, and construction is set to begin in 2027 with service starting in 2030.

Project Benefits

- Provide reliable, high-frequency bus service along 18 miles of Federal Blvd. from northern Westminster to southern Denver, one of the highest ridership transit corridors in the Denver region
- Increase safe, accessible and affordable transportation choices for all travelers
- Improve safety by helping to prevent crashes involving pedestrians, bicyclists and vehicles on heavily traveled urban roads
- Increase the number of people who can travel on a road while using fewer vehicles, ultimately easing congestion and reducing greenhouse gas emissions

Project Timeline

- 2023–2025: Preliminary design, engineering and environmental review
- 2025–2027: Final design
- 2027–2029: Construction, testing and commissioning
- 2030: BRT service underway

Disclaimer: Graphic representation of BRT elements. Final BRT elements and design will be different than displayed.

23RD AVENUE BRIDGE REPLACEMENT

Details from a public meeting at CDOT Headquarters are being tallied. Look for updates on meetings and requests for input.

CDOT launched the I-25: Speer Boulevard and 23rd Avenue Bridge and Interchange project during the Summer of 2021 to study and evaluate replacing the bridges that cross over I-25 in Central Denver. These bridges are near the end of their useful life and are often struck by trucks due to deficient vertical clearance. They are in need of replacement for the safety of all travelers.

This project seeks to:

- Improve operations and safety for vehicles
- Improve facilities for bikes and pedestrians

Study Schedule

- 2023: Data Collection and Preliminary Alternatives Development
- Early 2024: Purpose and Need and Initial Screening
- Mid 2024: Alternative Refinement and Secondary Screening
- Late 2024 to Late 2025: NEPA Environmental Analysis and Documentation, Start Preliminary Design

Study Area Map

This study area map shows the bridges over I-25 at 23rd Ave. and at Speer Boulevard and the interchange ramps at both locations are the roadway elements being studied for improvements.

A Letter to Mayor Johnston and Denver City Council:

How will you work with us to retain and reuse the Zuni Steam Plant as a community asset?

The Zuni Steam Plant has been a continuous presence on the banks of the South Platte River for over 122 years. Conceived with state-of-the-art equipment and electricity production techniques in 1901, it provided Denver with the energy capacity necessary for the city to expand throughout the 20th century. Its smokestacks towered over the communities of La Alma Lincoln Park, Sun Valley, and other west side neighborhoods long before the Colfax Viaduct or Interstate-25 established it as a more recognizable feature for residents across the entire city. The plant's legacy, while widely beneficial to the growth of the city, presents a complicated past for those neighbors that have historically been affected by its environmental impacts. However, these communities, undergoing rapid development, are steadfast in their belief that the building should be retained and reused, flipping the paradigm and breathing new life into a piece of their built heritage as a community-serving asset.

Iconic structures, generational constants that have provided continuity within Denver's changing urban landscape, are disappearing as Sun Valley and other historically industrial neighborhoods are redeveloped. We, the undersigned, are concerned that the Zuni Steam Power Plant could become another example contributing to this pattern.

Decommissioned in 2021, the building finds itself at a crossroads. No longer needed by its owner, Xcel Energy, and subject to environmental remediation to restore the land to an industrial grade, due to be completed at the end of this year, the building will be vacant. As a collective, we are seeking to work cooperatively with the City and County of Denver and Xcel Energy to encourage the reuse of this historic property in a manner that is transparent and that springboards a dynamic partnership to create an exciting and community-focused future for this important piece of Denver's built history.

We envision a bright and vibrant future for the steam power plant. We see it serving local neighborhoods with uses that support adjacent communities through the creation of amenities and employment opportunities, pushing back on displacement and gentrification, and creating the walkable 15-minute neighborhoods Denver aspires to. The buzz of electricity will be replaced by the buzz of activity as the Zuni Station becomes a community heart at the intersection of established and new neighborhoods in this rapidly developing area either side of the South Platte River.

We are concerned that this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity could quickly slip away and call upon Mayor Johnston and Denver City Council to act. We ask that the City and County of Denver exercise its right of first refusal to pursue taking ownership of the Zuni Steam Power Plant under Xcel Energy's Franchise Agreement and work with us to identify a potential development partner to bring the building back to life. We are ready to act as collaborators, advocates, and resources on this journey. We request a meeting with representatives of the City and County of Denver to discuss this matter further.

Sincerely,

John Deffenbaugh
CEO, Historic Denver
